Pioneer Mileage: 5 Million

United Press International
America's Pioneer V satellite, making history's first exploration of interplanetary space, celebrated Easter Sunday by passing the 5 million mark — and appropriately enough it was just over Easter Island at the time.

According to the Air Force and federal space agency, the 94.8-pound sun satellite set the historic mark on its journey away from earth at 4:20 p.m.

Actually, the satellite has traveled more than 50 million miles in the 37 days since it was launched March 11. But because it is moving through space in the same general direction as the earth, the gap between it and its mother planet represents only a fraction of its total mileage.

Pioneer V is now travelling a little over 5600 miles an hour.

The smaller and weaker of Pioneer's two radio voices, a 5-watt transmitter, is still reporting regularly on conditions in space between earth and Venus.

The previous long distance communications record was 407,000 miles. This record was set by America's Pioneer IV, launched March 3, 1959.

When Pioneer V's 5-watt voice fades out some weeks hence, its 150-watt transmitter will be turned on by radio command from the earth. It is expected to bridge distances upwards of 50 million miles.

In its 37-day career to date, Pioneer V has confirmed existence of intense electrical ring currents around the earth's middle, recorded numerous meteoroid impacts, and has run into interplanetary magnetic fields and clouds of electrified gas streaming from the sun.

Fair Weather Evicts Harsh State Storms

After a weekend of high winds, rain and snow, Nebraskans can expect springlike temperatures to return to the state Monday.

All will not be rosy, however, because the Weather Bureau predicts that gusting southerly winds between 25 and 35 mph will hit the west and central by Monday afternoon.

High temperatures are predicted to range in the 60s and generally fair skies are expected across the state.

Winds which gusted up to 55 mph Saturday night caused near-zero visibility in the panhandle portion of the state. North Platte, Scottsbluff and Chadron all reported about an inch of snow, while other Nebraska communities reported about an inch of rain.

High gusting winds and damp weather cancelled many outdoor Easter services and activities during the morning hours, but by Sunday afternoon, skies had cleared and readings across the state were in the 50s.

Sidney recorded both the state high and low temperatures Sunday with 59 and 24 degree readings. Lincoln reported a Sunday high of 53 after an overnight low of 37 and a rainfall total of .73 of an inch.

The weekend thunderstorms are believed to be the cause of a 40-minute power failure at Hastings. Officials said that lightning probably caused the failure when it struck the power plant, blacking out the town and also stopping the city water pumps.

Rainfall and snow precipitation reports from the weekend storms include:

British Crash Kills Young U.S. Singer

Bath, England (P) — American rock 'n' roll singer Eddie Cochran was killed in a taxi crash Sunday, a few hours after his last bow before screaming teenagers.

With fellow singer Gene Vincent he was dashing by cab to London airport for the trip home to Los Angeles at the end of a 13-week British tour.

A tire blew out, sending the cab swerving crazily from side to side of the highway before it smashed backwards into a lamp post.

Cochran and Vincent were thrown out with their fellow passengers, Patrick Tompkins, manager of their British tour, and Sharon Sheeley, 20, Hollywood girl song writer.

Doctors Operate

All were taken to a hospital. Cochran, with head and internal injuries, died on the operating table Sunday afternoon.

The smash came around midnight. Just a couple of hours previously the 21-year-old Cochran was singing "C'mon Everybody" to a wildly cheering audience of youngsters packed into the Hippodrome Theater at Bristol.

Vincent, 25, former merchant seaman from Norfolk, Va., suffered a fractured collar bone. He hoped to be out of the hospital in a few days.

Miss Sheeley came on the tour to study Cochran's style so she could write some songs for him. She and Cochran were schoolchildren together.

Midwest Has Wild Weather

By Associated Press
Vicious winds and sleet brought woes to parts of the Midwest Easter Sunday after a night of tornadoes, chilling rain and even snow.

At least 5 persons died late Saturday and early Sunday as a result of the wild weather. Property damage was extensive.

The area from Oklahoma northeast into Kansas, Missouri and Illinois and Iowa took the brunt of the storms Saturday night.

Half a dozen tornado funnels were sighted in north central and northeastern Oklahoma. A violent wind tore into Tulsa, breaking plate glass windows and felling utility poles, traffic lights and signs. At least 15 persons were injured.

Coasts Mild

Weather conditions, however, were delightful in many other places.

Southern California was bathed in bright, summery weather. Washington, D.C. had temperatures in the 80s as did most Atlantic seaboard cities.

Chilly weather discomfited widely scattered sections, from Salt Lake City which had an early morning 24 degrees — a record low for this late in the season — to near-freezing ranges along the northern Kansas border.

Snow Area

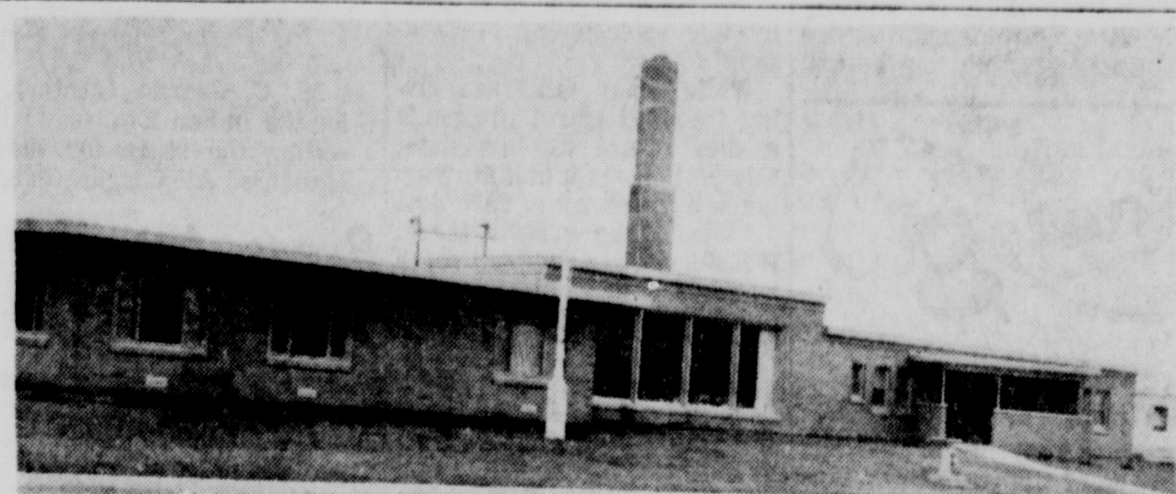

Ames, Iowa had two inches of snow on the ground Easter morning. Wyoming, Nebraska and the Dakotas also were visited by snowstorms during the night.

Tornadoes rumbled across farms in eastern Kansas, northwestern Missouri and eastern Iowa during the night. At Waterloo, Iowa, a heavy truck trailer was blown on top of an auto, killing a passenger in the car, Carl Manuel, 44.

The boxes of two freight cars were hoisted from the wheels by 50 mph winds causing a 38-car derailment at Traer, Iowa.

Small Transaction Started It All At Grand Island's 'Golden Age Village'

By Gene Budig

Grand Island—From a $14,713 transaction between Uncle Sam and Hall County to a near $800,000 home for the elderly.

That's the progressive 7-year history of the Golden Age Village here.

"Today the Grand Island institution is one of the finest of its kind in the country."

Richard E. Spelts Jr., executive director of the Golden Age Village, says proudly. Spelts, the only unpaid executive director of such a project in the U.S., puts in nearly 50 hours monthly at the village.

To get a picture of the village's progress, one must turn back the calendar to the days of World War II when Grand Island had an ordnance plant and an air base.

A lack of housing facilities at this time was "critical."

So, the federal government created a pre-fab housing project known as the Broadwell Courts.

Pre Fabs

The pre-fabs were originally built for civilian workers, but after the war they were opened to returning war veterans.

Then, in 1953, the government decided to dispose of the 175-unit court in the Third City and offered to set up the landers donated a tract of land to a Lutheran group for the erection of a hospital south of the home.

The hospital is now in operation and it works hand in hand with the Baumann Home.

Golden Age stock again sky-rocketed recently when the government approved a $611,000 loan for construction of another major unit—Pletcher Terrace.

The entire Golden Age project is located on the old 32-acre Broadwell tract, Spelts reminded.

Room For 92

Now under construction, the new unit will include 11 apartment buildings with a capacity of 92 residents and a community building.

A management area, 4 meeting rooms and a kitchen will be incorporated in the community building.

The Golden Age Village should be in complete operation within a year or two.

But, Spelts insisted, the completion of Pletcher Terrace won't be the end of village expansion.

"This project is something that will grow and progress right along with Hall County," he added.

'Would Reduce Tension'

Santiago, Cuba (P) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro was quoted Sunday as saying relations between the United States and Cuba could be improved if he could have a private meeting with President Eisenhower or Secretary of State Christian Herter.

Castro, who has been leading a 10-day search for insurgents in the Sierra Maestra, turned up at the mountain town of El Caney and participated in the dedication of a rural school.

An American radio correspondent, Richard Bates of the Columbia Broadcasting System, said Castro gave him the statement on Cuban-U.S. relations.

The school dedicated was a memorial to Maj. Camilo Cienfuegos, Castro's army chief who disappeared in an airplane accident several months ago.

Travels By Car

Bates said Castro arrived at El Caney by automobile and left the same way. He indicated he was not returning to the mountains where Castro said his campesinos (peasants) could easily handle the insurgents.

Castro was quoted as saying a heavy concentration of regular troops in the mountainous region of eastern Cuba resulted from a desire to help train militiamen and regular troops, and to be on the alert for possible landings of invaders.

When asked from where an invasion might come, Castro mentioned the Dominican Republic and then was quoted as saying: "And lately President Eisenhower and Herter have been making strong remarks against us."

Talks Proposed

It was at this time, Bates said, that Castro suggested that a meeting with the President or secretary of state might settle some of the differences between the two countries.

Castro, he said, disclosed he planned to make a major speech in Havana on May 1 "and I will make some important disclosures at that time."

Castro's supporters are calling for a turnout of 1½ million in support of the government on May Day.

Bates said Castro told him the fugitive ex-captain, Manuel Beutien, main object of the mountain search, had only about 14 followers and "he should be caught soon."

Welcome Sign Means Profit

...FOR STATE WHEAT FARMERS

By Glenn Kreuscher
Staff Farm Writer

Wilber — There is a new welcome sign at the north edge of this county seat town that can mean profits for Nebraska wheat farmers.

The sign marks the location of an Outstate Testing Plot where many of the old varieties and most of the new are getting a practical trial by weather, insects and other factors that determine successful wheat crops or years of failure for the Nebraska farmer.

Outstate Testing Plots, conducted through co-operation of the Nebraska Grain Improvement Assn., Nebraska Experimental Station and Agriculture Extension Service give crop testing a practical trial on actual farms where the neighbors and passers-by can watch daily progress.

"One Of Best"

Saline County Extension Agent Harold J. Van DeRiet terms the test plot "one of the best located plots we have had in the county. Practically everyone in the area goes by this spot during the season."

While many folks are giving the 1960 wheat prospects a dim future at this date, this plot shows a definite variance between some varieties.

"Most of the wheat is there. It looks spindly now, but some warm weather should help this condition," says Van DeRiet.

An attraction to Saline County farmers is the farmer sample plot. In this area Van DeRiet has collected and planted 49 samples taken from seed bins and drill boxes of farmers in his county.

Can't Tell

"You can't tell by looking what variety you have—this test offers a practical check for the farmer, as a check of heading dates will establish positive identification on varieties," explains Van DeRiet.

A check of the samples shows many familiar varieties and some that are strangers. In the list, Pawnee leads with about 80%, but others are Bison, Comanche, Cheyenne, Iowin, Iobred, Red Chief, Blue Jacket and Tenmarq.

Many of these would come under the heading of varieties not recommended and, when the results can be illustrated in a sample test plot beside recommended varieties, many farmers rush to change their next year's seed wheat.

18 Varieties

Eighteen varieties are included in the University plot. Some of the varieties in this group are Pawnee, Triumph, Rodeo, Ponca, Wichita, Turkey Red and Nebred along with many still identified by a number and under additional test work.

One of the most interesting comparisons pointed out by Van DeRiet is a planting of Pawnee where part of the seed had been treated and the other sown as untreated seed.

The treated plot shows a thick, even stand, while the untreated is spotty, uneven in growth and would look like a poor prospect for a successful wheat crop.

Noticeable

The effect of fertilizer is quite noticeable with a better stand and more growth on the plots that have had a blend of fertilizer as a boost for growth.

"County-wide wheat prospects have looked much better in previous years, but in many cases I think we need some warm weather and, if moisture conditions continue favorable, we could have more wheat than some folks think possible at this date," said Van DeRiet.

If you notice cars driving slow as they approach the north edge of Wilber this spring, it may not be due to the speed laws, but the interest folks are taking in the many sample wheat plantings.

Press Attache: India To Use Peaceful Means In Dispute

India will use all peaceful means to settle its border dispute with Communist China, an official of the Indian Embassy said in Lincoln Sunday.

M. C. Jugran, press attache for the Indian Embassy in Washington, D.C., said his country is clear in its thinking concerning issues between China or any other country.

"We believe all quarrels should be settled peacefully. But another country should not take our attitude as a sign of weakness... that would be a mistake," he asserted.

Jugran is in Lincoln setting the stage for the 3-day visit of Mahomed Ali Currim Chagla, India's ambassador to the United States and one of his country's influential leaders, who is scheduled to arrive in Lincoln Monday morning.

Chagla's visit to Lincoln will coincide with the visit of Communist China head Chou En-Lai with Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru in New Delhi. Main topic for discussion will be the border dispute between the two countries. Currently Red China claims parts of Indian territory.

Jugran called the friendship between the United States and India "natural."

"We believe in the same values, have the same constitutional make-up and are the largest democracy while you are the strongest democracy," Jugran said.

Jugran said President Eisenhower on his recent visit to India was hailed as a "messenger of peace," and the visit symbolized the great friendship between the two countries.

Jugran was the dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. Stuart Hall of 2234 Crestwood Ave. Sunday. K. H. Shahani, professor of dairy husbandry at the University of Nebraska, and his wife also attended the affair.

NO PERMANENT INJURY SEEN FOR VERWOERD

Pretoria, South Africa (AP)—Dr. H. W. Snyman, one of the surgeons attending Prime minister Hendrik F. Verwoerd, said Verwoerd will not suffer any permanent injury from two bullet wounds in his head. Verwoerd was shot by a would-be assassin April 9.

In a report on the prime minister's condition, Snyman said Verwoerd retains his hearing, "his brain is not in any way damaged, and no part of his body has been paralyzed."

Snyman's statement said: "The prime minister's sound constitution has contributed much to tide him over the danger... The bleeding, swelling and pain of the injured right jaw cavity and nose cavity at first caused much concern, but have already recovered to such an extent that breathing and swallowing movements and speech have become freer and easier."

"The bullet did not penetrate the inner ear itself, but ricocheted inside. The other small wound to the cheek is healing rapidly and there has been no facial disfigurement. An operation either on wounds or to remove the bullets is not necessary. The bullets came to rest in soft parts and can do no further damage. They can be removed at a later and more convenient time."

Parks' $178,000 To Be Cut If Bond Issue OKd

By Virgil Falloon

Park improvements of $178,200 requested in the city's 6-year capital improvement program would be superseded by the $3.25 million park improvement bond program that the voters are being asked to authorize May 10.

City Safety-Welfare Director Emmett Junge said that park department requests in the 6-year capital budget would be immediately dropped in the event the much-needed comprehensive program is authorized as the same items are in the larger program.

The comprehensive park program would be completed in 3 years if the bonds are authorized.

To obtain this same level of improvement at the rate of capital expenditures envisioned in the 6-year program would take 80 to 125 years.

For 1960-61 in the 6-year $40,250 are requested from general tax revenue. This would provide $10,000 worth of development at Bethany Playground, a tennis-skating slab at Belmont Park, picnic shelter at University Place Park, restrooms at Peter Pan Park, and water line to animal pens in Pioneer Park.

In contrast, the $3.25 million park program would provide general improvements for all existing city parks plus 3 new swimming pools, a new municipal golf course, total development of Woods Park, and three new parks. Junge said the comprehensive park program would eliminate city budget expenditures for park improvements for the foreseeable future.

Easter Services Here Attended By Capacity Crowds

Capacity crowds observed Easter at many of the local churches Sunday.

Many of the churches reporting had to provide two regular church services to handle the additional attendance for the observance of the miracle of Christ's resurrection.

Churches reported capacity crowds were in attendance for the Sunday School and regular church services. Good turnouts for the special sunrise services were also noted.

The annual Easter sunrise service sponsored by the Lincoln Singfest Committee at Pinewood Bowl was postponed because of bad weather.

Salt Lake City (AP)—The body of a 10-pound baby boy was found when Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Goss opened a parcel post package delivered to their home in fashionable Millcreek, a suburb.

The package had been mailed in Dallas, Tex., April 12. It bore the return name and address of Mary Sue Goss, 3522 Wycliff, Dallas.

Police quoted a woman living at the address, a widow about 55 years old, as saying she knew nothing about it.

The package was addressed to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Goss, RR 3, Box 18-A, Salt Lake City. There is no such address, so the post office delivered it to the Goss residence at 2212 East 3020 South.

Mr. and Mrs. Goss told police they have never lived in Dallas and know no one there.

Humphrey Chances Seen Good In W. Virginia

Charleston, W. Va. (AP) — By most home-grown estimates, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) is gaining on Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) in the West Virginia popularity contest for president.

West Virginians had their first opportunity last week to see, hear, and to contrast the two senators who have focused national attention on this state's May 10 primary election.

They were appearing for the first time in full battle dress after the Wisconsin contest, which Kennedy won by a popular majority of more than 100,000 votes.

With bird-dog eagerness, Humphrey plowed through the populous southern coal mining counties for 4 days, flushing out voters in coveys ranging from 5 to 500, suiting his oratory to the hard times that haunt the coal fields.

Cities Courted

The youngish looking Kennedy flew into Parkersburg and touched several urban bases, including the state's principal cities, Charleston and Huntington, where unemployment doesn't hang so heavy and whence much of the Kennedy support is expected to come.

The consensus in Charleston is that Humphrey is getting good results from his personal campaigning.

Some hard facts emerged from the first week of full-scale campaigning:

1. The question of Kennedy's Roman Catholic religion is a factor. Only 4.9% of West Virginia's church membership is Catholic. "I don't think we can escape the religious issue," concedes Mrs. Violet Snedegar of Elkins, Democratic national committeewoman for West Virginia.

2. The reported "ganging up" on Kennedy by supporters of other Democratic hopefuls has come out into the open.

On this latter point, Mrs. Snedegar thinks any such campaign strategy could be overcome — it might create sympathy and votes for Kennedy.

It has been accepted as a political fact in West Virginia for some time that other candidates for the nomination would give Humphrey whatever subtle support they could to help him knock off Kennedy before the Democrats go to Los Angeles for their convention July 11.

Jap Ownings Up

Tokyo (AP) — The Japanese government owned the equivalent of $6,424,722,222 worth of property at the close of 1959, the finance ministry reports. That was an increase of $466,111,111 over the previous year.

Rail Dispute Move Slated

Washington (AP) — Government officials are expected to ask President Eisenhower this week to step in with emergency action to head off possible labor troubles on the nation's railroads.

Eleven unions representing 650,000 non-operating employees — those who maintain and service the trains — have a legal right to strike on May 5 for unsettled wage and other demands. The carriers also could put into effect their counter-proposal for a 15c per hour wage cut.

Neither is likely to happen. The National Mediation Board is preparing to ask Eisenhower to name an emergency board to sift the proposals of both sides and come up with a recommended solution.

Under terms of the Railway Labor Act, presidential action in naming an emergency board serves to delay any overt moves by either side for 30 days while the emergency board holds hearings and makes its recommendations, and for an additional 30 days for negotiations on the recommendations.

The unions seek a wage increase of 25c an hour, plus improved vacation, holiday and welfare provisions. The workers presently average $2.40 an hour.

Drug Competition Found Lacking, Claims Kefauver

Washington (UPI) — Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) says his Senate investigators have found "a lack of competition" in the drug industry.

Kefauver, chairman of the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee, said the profit of drug companies is about twice the average of all U.S. manufacturing.

"We found also that they sell to the pharmacists for very much larger prices than they sell to the government when they bid," he said.

In one case, Kefauver said, a large drug company charged druggists $180 for a product which was sold to the government for only $30.

The senator voiced his charges in a television report to the people of Tennessee, where he is now seeking reelection. Some Kefauver supporters claim the drug interests have sent literature into the state in an effort to defeat him.

Car Magnate Got No Look At Kidnapers

Paris (AP) — Roland Peugeot never saw the kidnapers of his son, Eric, when he paid the ransom that obtained the boy's freedom.

The kidnapers were reported to have asked $100,000 ransom. Peugeot has not said how much he paid.

Police said Sunday the ransom payment was arranged last Thursday in a district near the Arch of Triumph. They gave these details:

Peugeot was instructed over the telephone by the kidnaper to stand at the entrance to the "Passage Doisy" facing outward. He was to hold the ransom in a briefcase beneath his left arm. A man would come up behind him and say "Keep the key" and slip the briefcase from beneath Peugeot's arm.

Man Appears

Peugeot was there at the appointed time. The man came up, gave the password added twice, "Don't turn around." Then he fled. The boy was abandoned on a sidewalk and discovered by a passerby 8 hours later.

Police added to several clues they have collected since a nationwide manhunt started when the boy was freed. The latest was the discovery of two fingerprints on a letter sent Peugeot by the kidnapers.

Police believe there were two men and a woman. Slight traces of lipstick were found on another letter from the kidnaper.

Although the ransom was paid in used banknotes, the numbers on the notes were listed, and the list is now being distributed.

The U.S. Department of Commerce estimates that the 1960 population of the United States, including armed forces overseas, is 179,834,690.

London (AP) — Headed by a lone drummer, 15,000 demonstrators against the H-bomb tramped on through the English countryside Sunday, nursing their blisters and snarling Easter holiday traffic.

The protest against nuclear weapons was in its third day. But few had fallen out from the 4-mile procession of bedraggled marchers who aim to reach London to join a giant protest rally Monday.

Thousands had joined the demonstrators along the route. Despite the serious underlying purpose, the march still

PARK VICTIMS' CLOTHES BARE BLOODY PRINTS

Starved Rock State Park, Ill. (UPI) — Police Sunday were checking hundreds of fingerprints in an effort to track down the killer of 3 Riverside, Ill., mothers.

A state police fingerprinting team swung into action after 6 bloody fingerprints were found on the clothing of the victims.

State Police Supt. William Morris said 6 prints were found on a silk stocking and on undergarments of two of the women.

Lincoln Looks Ahead

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

The total of proposed capital expenditures for Lincoln through 1966 comes to a staggering figure of $21,978,050. A look at that and taxpayers are likely to lie down and die. And they would have good cause for doing so if they had to pick up the tab in taxes for such a program. But while direct taxes will have to provide some of the funds—less than one-fourth—much of the money will come from other sources.

The program, for instance, includes $13,060,000 for street improvements in Lincoln. The people will pay for this, all right, but they won't notice it like they would if it meant an annual mill levy for this amount.

Money For Streets

Actually, we are all already paying for some of this through the city's wheel tax and the state's gasoline tax and auto registration fees. More of it is being paid for through federal taxes. Thus, the future will be no greater drain on us than has been the past. Estimates for the division of commercial light and water supply and distribution are in the same category.

Commercial light has a six-year program of $259,000 and water supply and distribution has a $3,392,300 plan. But no tax levy will be made for either of these two programs. These are improvements which will be financed out of earnings of the two departments involved. And the same thing is true of the $1,688,500 sanitary sewer improvement plan for the next six years.

Sanitary sewers, however, do come fairly close to a direct tax and are likely to mean a bigger bite on home owners in the near future. The improvements there are financed with the present sewer use fee based on water consumption. However, this fee is now so low that it is barely providing an excess over current debt service requirements.

It will not be surprising to see the use fee increased slightly in the next two or three years. There are sufficient funds on hand, however, to get the city through at least the 1960-61 fiscal year in which a $355,000 improvement is planned for the Havelock system. This, incidentally, may not be the kind of improvement to make Havelock jump with joy but it is one of many facts which show the fallacy of the old saw that all the city's money is spent on the south side of O Street.

The purpose of this project is to take the sewage now being dumped into Salt Creek and run it through the sewage treatment plant at 22nd and Theresa. This will be a definite health asset for the Havelock area as well as a substantial contribution to the principle of stream pollution abatement. Into another sewer area but of a different nature, we find the city planning to spend $1,974,500 over the next six years on storm sewers.

This is where we begin getting into direct general fund taxes and into real problems. Obviously, the city isn't about to levy a tax of nearly $2 million over the next six years for storm sewers. This would simply be too big a load and would bring the taxpayers out in wrathful indignation.

Yet, so long as the city continues to grow, there are going to be both storm and sanitary sewer problems. There will undoubtedly be a modest tax levy for storm sewers over the next few years but all signs point to another bond issue in the not too distant future. This, of course, means additional taxation and the storm sewer program is the largest single general tax item in the total $21,978,050 program.

Another big item is $228,750 for street lights and this will be a general tax levy. But spread over six years, the program presents a modest request on an annual basis, never exceeding $40,500. If there is any question on this program, in fact, it would be on its completeness. The City Council will want to look carefully at this program to make sure we are not selling ourselves short on a very substantial need. The planned program includes major arterial relighting projects totaling $41,000 and new overhead lights around the city totaling $108,000.

Another major item is $178,200 for park improvements but it should be noted that this would be virtually eliminated if the proposed $3,250,000 park bond issue carries at the May 10 election. In all, the capital expenditures program is an ambitious one but it is also encouraging in that it seems to be well within the grasp of the city.

Vital Program Of Lighting

Modest Budget

The likelihood of main top labor investigation this year became remote after the U.S. Senate finished its work with the committee budget.

The McClellan committee had $750,000 to work with in 1959. Recently the Senate cut the 1960 authorization to $75,000.

Other changes were effected. The committee was divided of its independent status and was made into a subcommittee of the Government Operations Standing Committee. While Senator McClellan will continue to head the investigations he and his group will be subject to direction from the parent committee. The change automatically eliminates three of the committee's most active participants, namely Sens. John Kennedy, of Massachusetts, Frank Church, of Idaho, and Barry Goldwater, of Arizona. None of the three is a member of the parent committee. But three former Republican members will continue under the new set up. They are Sens. Curtis of Nebraska, Mundt of South Dakota and Capehart of Indiana.

The residual committee, while it contains such men as Mundt, Curtis and Capehart who were not investigative heavyweights such as Sen. Kennedy, but highly anti-labor will have a partisan tint. For that reason alone it is just as well the activity of the group has been lessened. The country would prefer to spend its money on a dispassionate inquiry for that is the best basis for constructive legislation.

But it is also possible that the slowdown in committee activity more greatly accommodates the distracting tasks of the committee members during the election year. A great many of the members need the time to conduct their home state campaigns. If labor uses this respite wisely it will occupy the time improving its household and perhaps that way save the money and time the committee otherwise would find it necessary to expend in the years after this one.

Doesn't Want Weapons

The United States has just finished playing host to one of Latin America's most appealing figures, President Alberto Lleras Camargo of Colombia.

Colombia is a coffee republic in earnest about democracy and economic improvement. It had the misfortune to fall prey to dictatorship when Gen. Gustavo Rojas Pinilla seized the government a decade ago. The Colombians finally mustered the strength to recover it and Camargo, a liberal journalist, was made president. It was to the very good judgment of the country that the two restored parties, the liberal and conservative, decided to sterilize their inter-party disagreements during the recovery period. They agreed on Camargo and then further agreed to divide, or that is, share equal representation in government. Under such harmonious circumstances Camargo has been able to bring peace to the country and to initiate several worthy programs for the betterment of the rank and file.

One of the purposes of his visit here was to discuss American arms aid. Like other peace loving Latin American leaders he wants disarmament. Arms aid, he pointed out, commits a government to military activities and expense. It robs the treasury of money so greatly needed to finance economic improvement, and too often leads to greater militarism. One must be prepared to defend against some trigger happy country which has received too many rifles for its own good.

Camargo, like others, has pointed up a flaw, or perhaps a misunderstanding, in our judgment of what is proper aid for Latin America. His word should carry weight, for arms lay a heavy expense on our aid program and if they only serve to burden the aided they work against the ultimate objectives of our aid aims. We must learn that peace and progress in Latin America is mostly dependent upon citizen confidence in and cooperation with their well intentioned democratic leaders and it is to promote such a state that our aid should be directed.

Castor Bean Promising

It may seem like a low blow to the kids but the castor bean is a very promising thing for agriculture in Nebraska. This is because the oil from the bean has a great variety of industrial uses and at this time is the only agricultural product which can effectively meet petroleum competition. And the industrial market for the oil from this bean could increase from 10 to 50 times in the coming years.

It is important, of course, that we realize that the castor bean as a major cash crop for Nebraska farmers is still only promising. It would appear that the crop could produce for our farmers at a rate equal to or better than corn and the interest of farmers in the bean indicates that they feel it might well be quite a bit better than corn.

But it is still not known just what the crop will do in Nebraska. The growing season here is the minimum for castor beans and other factors such as soil, irrigation, etc. have not yet been given a test here. There are still some uncertainties, too, in regard to harvesting the crop but a combine attachment for this purpose is believed to have solved what used to be a tedious hand-picking operation.

Perhaps the most outstanding aspect of this new crop for Nebraska is its market situation. Most of the bean supply to date has been imported but the import source is drying up as Brazil is seeking to develop its own processing of the product as well as growing it. This leaves U.S. demand far ahead of supply—an unusual thing in agriculture these days.

More than 1,000 acres are expected to be planted this spring in Nebraska in castor beans. If the crop lives up to expectations, this will be a tremendous asset for the state. The development is another feather in the cap of the State Department of Agriculture under Director Pearl F. Finigan where the program has received encouragement and guidance. It is another example of what a progressive and far-sighted state administration can do if it wants to.

DREW PEARSON

Jersey Primary Test Of Money

WASHINGTON—U.S. politicians may be watching the West Virginia primary, but Canada will be watching the New Jersey primary which will be decided tomorrow. Reason: The suicide of Canadian Ambassador Herbert Norman after the Senate Internal Security Committee leaked secret testimony regarding him.

After his suicide, a letter mailed from Canada was received by the post office in Washington addressed: "Killer Morris, U.S. Senate." Postal officials promptly delivered it to Robert Morris, counsel for the Internal Security Committee. This is the man who after many years of working with McCarthy of Wisconsin and Jenner of Indiana now wants to be elected to the Senate.

The Republican primary in New Jersey in which Morris is running is one of the most significant in the nation.

Here is the cast of characters in this significant battle. The lead roles are being played by:

SEN. CLIFFORD CASE, Republican moderate and anti-McCarthy, for whom like made a special trip to New Jersey in 1954 to help elect. Case served many years in the House of Representatives, resigned to head the Fund For The Republic for two years, then returned to Congress as a senator.

ROBERT MORRIS, Republican right-winger, first got into the spotlight as Republican counsel for the Senate committee probing McCarthy's charge that there were "205 card-carrying Communists in the State Department." He tried to prove McCarthy right.

The supporting cast in this race is also interesting. On Morris' side it includes Jim Selva, right-wing public relations man for Republic Steel, the Pan American Coffee Bureau, and the Bolivian government. Members of Americans For Constitutional Action, Admiral Ben Morrell, president, plus other Morris friends, are reported to have poured about $200,000 into New Jersey. The ACA even operates its own campaign office in the Stacey Trent Hotel in Trenton, private phone Owens 5-7438, with Charles A. McManus in charge. McManus is an importee from Pennsylvania, handles industrial relations for U.S. Steel.

Supporting Case is his old friend, ex-Sen. Alexander Smith, the former Princeton professor, now 80 years old, who resigned his state department job to go back to New Jersey and campaign for his young colleague. Also loyally backing Case is Dallas Townsend, the assistant attorney general in charge of alien property.

Senator Case has one headquarters, a single basement room at 50 Commerce Street in Newark next to the men's rest room. If he wins it will be because the voters of New Jersey are not fooled by a lot of money.

Foreign Ministers In Same Old Rut

WASHINGTON—The mating ritual of the Gooney Birds could be no more prescribed and inevitable in its end than the periodic meetings of the western foreign ministers.

In the first phase the tocsin of alarm is sounded. Germany and Britain are at odds. A deal will be made over Berlin. A cloud of distrust darkens the scene.

Then the ministers come together to be photographed amiably smiling at one another. Next they retire into the fastness of the conference chamber from which come bulletins describing the fruitful progress of the discussions.

Finally, as the conference nears its end, the love call is triumphant. The chorus of harmony sounds like the brasses in a Wagnerian opera.

The reason this whole business has such an empty and pro forma sound is evident enough. The ministers have no power to agree on any positive new steps that may be taken in the exchange with the Soviet Union.

What is also becoming rather painfully evident is that the present is for the West a difficult transition phase, with the chief hope that it will pass without a major challenge. The hard, the truly terrifying decisions will have to be taken by others at a later time. This may explain why the rumor is circulating that President Eisenhower in Paris will propose to Premier Khrushchev a second summit conference to be held in December and to which he will bring the president-elect chosen in November. While presidents before him have not hesitated to enter into executive agreements committing their successors, Mr. Eisenhower has said that a moratorium on small nuclear explosions could not be assured beyond the expiration of his term in the White House.

But the area of uncertainty is not limited to this country. West Germany has an election in 1961 and top officials here are convinced that every move Chancellor Adenauer makes and every word he speaks is with the goal of his return as chancellor for another four-year term. Increasingly he lives in lofty isolation, consulting no one on the major decisions. As a consequence, his foreign minister, Heinrich Von Brentano, tends to be a nervous messenger concerned above all to understand correctly the signals from the venerable chancellor.

Wonders Of The Universe

The appearance of the bright aluminum-coated balloon April 1, which was completely overshadowed by the successful launching of the weather satellite Tiro I, is another preview of things to come.

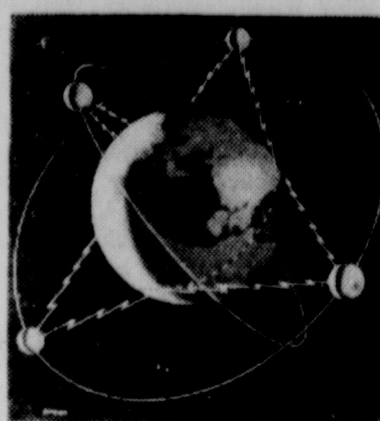

Balloons like these are forerunners of an entire complex of low altitude balloons which will provide rapid and sure-fire, long-range communications in the immediate future. Signals from the earth will be reflected from the aluminum surface to permit instantaneous communications spanning oceans and continents.

Scientists hope that before the end of 1960 some of these passive satellites will be launched, opening a new communications era.

The first of these satellites is scheduled to be launched this spring from Cape Canaveral using the Delta rocket as the launch vehicle. Scientists estimate that between 12 and 20 satellites will be necessary to insure successful communications. The satellites will move in an inclined path making an angle of 50 degrees with the equator.

To permit tracking of the Project Echo satellite, a transmitter will be installed in the final stage of the rocket. The transmitter will broadcast a radio signal of 108 megacycles to permit the Minitrack stations to track it.

The military have also been planning a complex of communications satellites for their many and varied needs.

The first of the military satellites will be Task Courier, a refinement of the spectacular Project Score which sped through the sky at Christmastime 1958. Contained in these satellites will be a radio receiver and transmitter, a magnetic tape recorder and playback unit and a triggering mechanism.

As in Project Score, when this satellite passes over a ground station it will pick up a message which will be put on tape. As it passes over other ground stations for which messages are intended it will transmit a signal to trigger the satellite transmitter. Thus the messages will flash down to their destinations.

Task Courier is an Army project and the satellite is destined for a 500-mile orbit inclined to the equator. With an inclination of 50 degrees this satellite could conceivably communicate with all the important Army installations in the world.

While Project Courier is a delayed type communication satellite there are three others which are termed "instantaneous repeater" satellites. These will relay messages instantly upon receipt. The first is called Task Steer.

While Task Steer is the Air Force satellite, an almost identical one called Task Tackle will be the Army version. This Atlas-launched satellite will also travel a six-hour orbit. This is an advanced type of communications repeater to provide two-way ground-to-air and ship-to-shore communications.

The last of the communications satellites contemplated at this time has the name of Task Decree. This will be an instantaneous repeater but it will be a 24-hour or stationary orbit. It will be launched over the equator with enough speed to get it up to an altitude of 22,400 miles. At this altitude it should remain stationary over a given point on the surface of the earth.

By placing three of them in the sky 120 degrees apart, we can use them for worldwide instantaneous communications.

Since the booster for Task Decree is the giant Saturn rocket it means that this project may be from five to ten years away.

To help stimulate a greater interest in current events or to provoke discussion of interesting areas of life, The Star submits today a question on which it invites future reader comment. Suggested questions from readers are welcomed.

Bob Conrad

Lincoln, Neb. Yes, Bob Conrad, assistant governor of Nebraska, is out campaigning this week. Some envious opponent has accused him of campaigning on state time.

As one who has watched this young man working for Nebraska for a year and a half, I can only say that to accuse Bob Conrad of not earning his money is a slur. Of all the people I have seen, I think he has turned in during the last year and a half a most conscientious and efficient job of public service. If they were polled on the subject, I believe the members of our Legislature would agree almost unanimously on the above estimate.

If the Democratic party of Nebraska can continue to attract such men as Bob Conrad, we shall be able to make Nebraska at least a two-party state.

According to the dope sheet, Nebraska will probably vote for Vice President Richard Nixon for president next November. If so, it will be because he has the experience and force necessary for the job. The same arguments will exactly fit Bob Conrad. The essential difference is that he is a liberal and a Democrat.

W. T. DAVIS

Old Guard Out

Sidney, Neb.

It is evident that ex-Governor Robert Crosby and some Republican leaders do not relish the prospect or brand of Republicanism that would be provided for the taxpayers of the state of Nebraska by Sen. Terry Carpenter, if elected governor. Crosby would sooner see Republicans defeated in the gubernatorial race than have this happen.

What occurred to cause the voters to conclude that 16 years of "Old Guard" Republicanism was enough? Some of the answers may be found in these incidents:

How about the State Penitentiary scandal? Roman riders on many horses, ice boxes and refrigerators? Convict labor in strange places? Up-side-down state-owned planes in Iowa corn fields carrying Nebraska governnors to political rallies and private missions?

Lieutenant governor, a constitutional official, replaced by political appointees and proteges?

Game laws that do not apply to Game Commission directors and personnel? Nebraska is in the top bracket among states in gasoline taxes; and property taxes are soaring skyward. Evidently in Mr. Crosby's eyes, Terry Carpenter's worst offense is his unkind remarks about tax evaders, his insistence that laws are to be obeyed and enforced without fear or favor, and refusal to "kowtow" to political party leaders.

Mr. Carpenter was successful in persuading some of the more affluent and well-to-do citizens to declare their property holdings, thereby relieving the hard-pressed taxpayers of part of the load and thus staving off for a time the most unfair tax of all—the sales tax. It would seem the part of wisdom for us common folks to forget partisan politics and support a candidate who is in there pitching for us.

CARL MAHR

BOB CONSIDINE

Time Still Honors Courage

NEW YORK — Eighteen years ago today, as the old Ruptured Duck flies, there was astonishing activity aboard the pitching, spray-lashed deck of U.S.S. Hornet. A young lieutenant in the Army Air Corps, who was to lose a leg in the memorable events that followed, told about in "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo," a book (Random House) and a movie (MGM) which have lived on into a new generation.

"Doolittle," wrote Lt. Ted Lawson, "warmed and idled his engines, and now we got a vivid demonstration of one of our classroom lectures on how to get a 25,000-pound bomber off half the deck of a carrier."

"We watched him like hawks, wondering what the wind would do to him and whether we could get off in that little run to the bow. If he couldn't, we couldn't."

"Doolittle picked up more speed and held to his line and just as the Hornet lifted itself up on the top of a wave and cut through it at full speed, Doolittle's plane took off. He had yards to spare! He hung his ship almost straight up on its props, until we could see the whole top of his B-25. Then he leveled off and I watched him come around in a tight circle and shoot low over our heads—straight down the line painted on the deck." Twenty-five survivors of that Tokyo raid and the air battles, wars and adventures that followed got together over the weekend at Colorado Springs. The bright young fledglings of the Air Force Academy, some of them yet unborn when Doolittle's men threw that unforgettable first American counter-punch of World War II, stepped by them Saturday in brisk review.

The 18 years have produced appalling changes in the technology of war. The B-25s that went to Tokyo and crashed in China hours later dropped a total of six tons on the thunderstruck Japanese capital. One H-bomb in our arsenal now packs a TNT equivalent which, to have been equalled by Doolittle, would have meant his use of 6,000,000 B-25s. Six million...

But there would have been no knighthood flowering in such a mission, as there surely was on that day April 18, 1942, when Jimmy led them off the deck.

"Would you like some champagne, sir?" said the stewardess.

"Heavens, no, I said, 'do you realize that it is only 9 o'clock in the morning?'"

That is one of the wonders of the jet age. You must abandon your stomach. Food is served by the clock. It keeps us hopping to what the appetite.

I took a little of the bubbly — the stewardess explained that she had only three hours to get rid of 17 bottles. I didn't want her to lose her job. It seemed immoral, though, at that hour.

The jet age has lined up a whole new set of problems for the airlines.

In those dear old piston-engine days (that was last year, wasn't it?) — anyway, in those days, it took about seven hours from the West Coast to Chicago. A person could raise an appetite for the lunch and the girls had time to serve the 70 passengers.

Now the time is cut in half.

And the passenger load on American's Flight 40 this morning was 110.

The jet planes not only increase the number of seats. They can make twice as many round trips during the day. (Crews used to lay over in Chicago. Now they get in eight hours' work on a round trip. Home for dinner.)

Every airline executive in the world is wondering how to double the number of flying passengers. If you know how this can be done, you are a millionaire tomorrow.

I must say the jet Boeing 707 has done something for me. Taken my heart out of my mouth and put it back where it belongs in my chest.

I have been a jingle-nerved passenger — and don't look at ME like that; about half the people on any plane are not really reading those magazines. They are watching the wings.

I got off in Ford tri-motors. Then they brought along the DC-3. It seemed monstrous and, in the daily press, we referred to them as "giant skyliners."

I just got used to the DC-3. I got used to it enough so the company did not have to take it in the shop and iron out the finger dent in the arm rest. Then they put out the DC-4.

The DC-4 had four engines and I whimpered like a bear cub when they put me in one and flew me to Honolulu. (It took 15 hours as I remember.)

I got used to the DC-4. Along came the Constellation and the DC-6.

This was followed, before I could draw breath, by the DC-7 and the Super-G and the Jetstream. My nerves were like piano wire.

Some of this reached the prints and press agents for the airlines began giving me hurt looks.

Stewardesses sat beside me. They said, honestly, the wings always flap a LITTLE, sir. They are built that way. Ha! Airplane captains came back — that was before Pete Quesada said stay up in the office, boys. They came back and explained the law of aerodynamics to me. (I thought maybe it might be repealed.)

Airlines hated to see me coming. (You should have seen the "me, too" mail I got, though.)

Anyway, along came these monstrous jets. So big they shouldn't get off the ground with a million engines.

And all of a sudden, I am calm as a kitten.

Don't ask me why. Because I don't intend to ask myself. There are some things that come to me I don't want to question.

I am bold and fearless. And now that my hands are steady, the stewardesses let me help pour the coffee sometimes.

The champagne helps, too. McNaught Syndicate, Inc.

Dear Abby— Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Last week while cleaning out the pockets of my husband's sport jacket I found a silly valentine. It was a picture of a caveman hitting a cavewoman over the head, and underneath it said, "YOU SLAY ME". It was signed, "Lenore".

I asked Harold who "Lenore" was. He said, "Oh just some dizzy dame at the office."

Now, Abby, in all the eleven years we've been married I never once went through Harold's billfold and I don't know what made me do it last night. Well, I found a little white card (the kind that comes with a gift) and on it was, "Love, Lennie".

I am heartsick. Should I ask Harold for a showdown when he comes home? Or should I pretend I never saw it? Or should I call Lenore and ask her how far this has gone? Please help me, Abby, I've never faced anything like this before.

HURT, HEARTSICK
AND DISILLUSIONED

DEAR HURT: Tell Harold your intuition has been working overtime and you'd like to know more about "Lenore". Listen quietly while he explains. When he's finished you'll probably find out that Lenore is just "some dizzy dame at the office."

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine (male) gave me one of those wishy-washy hand shakes and I told him that a hand shake with no more life in it than a dead fish was my pet peeve. So he grabbed my hand and crushed it so hard that he broke two bones in my finger. I slapped his face. I didn't realize the damage he had done until I went to the doctor the following day and had it X-rayed. When I told him about it, he offered to pay the bill. Should I let him? He is married, but I am not.

DIANNE
DEAR DIANNE: Let him? If he doesn't slug him with your GOOD hand.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been watching the ads for movies in the newspapers, and, are still waiting for a decent one to come along. They seem to be getting worse. The movies are vulgar, suggestive and indecent. And the advertising would make your hair stand on end. We are no spring chickens but we worry about the young folks who see these ads and go to the movies.

Small wonder our juvenile courts are packed every day. Yet our PTA's are busy fund-raising to buy bicycle racks and gym equipment. How about PTA putting forth some effort to get movies that are fit to see?

JUST DECENT FOLKS

DEAR FOLKS: It is not the function of the PTA to censor movies and their ads. It is up to the parents of children in the impressionable age group to exercise control over which movies their children see (as well as which books they read and with whom they associate). Not all movies are vulgar, suggestive and indecent. Some are wholesome, educational and inspirational.

ASK— Dorothy Draper

I always think as I walk into the President's room at the Greenbrier Hotel in West Virginia (which I decorated a few years ago) what a charming living room this would make!

The walls are pale green, much softer than the green of a lily-of-the-valley leaf. The ceiling is white. Curtains of heavy brocade match the green walls. A round cream colored Aubusson rug is scattered with pink flowers and lush green leaves.

There is a carved white marble mantelpiece (could be copied in wood) and a brass hob grate. A lovely old clock gently tick-tocks on the mantel and two candlesticks with white tapers stand gracefully erect at each end.

We needed a painting for each side of the mantel but just couldn't find a pair, so we bought one large painting of a lovely river and trees with hills in the background and cut it in half and framed the two halves. Most effective!

With touches of lemon-peel yellow, cranberry-red, a large black lacquer screen and mahogany furniture, this is one of my favorite rooms!

Mrs. N. N. asks:

"I would like to know if the walls, carpet and draperies would look right if they were all of the same color? My carpet is pale beige, and I wanted to paint my walls and make beige draperies. Or would the walls and draperies look better pale green? I have a pink sofa, two gold chairs, two pale green lamps and one black lamp. The furniture is mahogany. I want the draperies plain.

Dear Mrs. N.N.:

By pink, I hope you mean "coral" or "shrimp" color for your sofa. I should think your all beige (a nice, clear beige) background would be the better choice. I'd like to see the two gold chairs in some other color then, like a plaid in shrimp, white and black.

Mrs. J.C.S. asks:

"When we bought our home the room we selected for our daughter, age 12, was gray. We let her select the color of her draperies which are aqua. The room looks cold and dreary. Her furniture is a deep tan shade but the drapes seem to give it a green cast. I want to repaint her room to brighten it. I can't afford to buy new drapes. What color can I use to paint her room and for bedspreads for her twin beds?"

Dear Mrs. J.C.S.:

Why not transform the walls with a delectable light aqua paint? Use white bedspreads with dust ruffles of a gay print with definite aqua splashes. Get added color in pictures on the wall and a strawberry-red or emerald green glass lamp base.

On Lincoln's Easter Guest List

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Colby are their daughter, Mrs. Harold Jones (Carol Ann Colby)—and their small granddaughter, Terri Lynne. Mrs. Jones and young Terri arrived from Beacon Falls, Conn.,

where Mr. Jones has been stationed, in time for Easter. The visitors will remain in Lincoln until Mr. Jones completes special training at a school in El Paso, Tex., after which he and his family will be stationed at Salina, Kan.

Also on Lincoln's Easter guest list are Mrs. Robert Pecha and her two daughters, Liz Ann (left) and Julie of Kirkwood, Mo., who spent the past week as the guests of Mrs. Pecha's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Roland Mueller. Mr. Pecha arrived on Saturday to join his family for the Easter week end, and will accompany them back to Kirkwood early this week.

Mrs. Pecha will be remembered as Nancy Mueller—Delta Gamma at Nebraska.

SUBURBIA

COTNER TERRACE

Motoring to Beatrice last week end were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kors who were the guests of Mr. Kors' mother, Mrs. W. H. Kors, and his sister, Miss Lois Kors.

Also houseguests at the Kors home during the Easter week end were Mrs. Kors' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lorin Jones of Auburn.

Heard that Cotner Terrace had guests for the Easter week end. Coming from Omaha to spend Easter Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Reed who were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Hermann.

News from the stork this morning spotlights the arrival of two additions to the talcum powder set.

Making her debut at Bryan Memorial Hospital on Sunday, April 10, was Tammy Jane Remter. Tammy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Remter, and her mother is the former Evelyn Sterns.

Proud grandparents of the young miss are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Remter, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sterns of Raymond.

And arriving on Wednesday, April 6, at St. Elizabeth Hospital was Jay Troy Beaty. Jay, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Beaty, has a three-year-old brother, Mike.

The paternal grandmother is Mrs. Angeline Beaty, and his maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Jamesson. Mrs. Beaty is the former Jaye Anne Jameson.

NORTHEAST HEIGHTS

The welcome mat is out at 6355 Knox for the John E. Zeller family who moved to Lincoln the first of April from their former home in Lancaster, Calif. Busy meeting the youngsters on their block are two-year-old Raymond and Richard, who is four. Their seven-year-old brother, Robert, is attending Pershing School.

News from Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maxwell tells us that they are the proud parents of a son, Randy Jay. Randy arrived on Tuesday, April 12, at Bryan Memorial Hospital. Other members of the younger generation in the Maxwell family include 16-year-old Gary; Bob, 15; and three-year-old Wendy.

Mrs. Hazel Maxwell is the young man's paternal grandmother. His maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Otto Heiliger.

Evening Ceremony

The marriage of Helen Muller Baars, daughter of Mrs. John Muller, to Ben R. Kerns, son of Mrs. William Koop, took place at a 7 o'clock ceremony on Sunday evening, April 17, at the Zion Lutheran Church. The Rev. F. C. Nolte read the lines of the service, and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Harold Busboom. Miss Kathy Scott was the vocal soloist.

Attending their mother were Mrs. Al Frahm of Omaha, the matron of honor, and the Misses Barbara Ann and Saundra Baars, the bridesmaids. Their alike frocks were of pastel blue taffeta and they carried bouquets of white carnations feather-edged with blue. Miss Linda Lou Dienert lighted the candles.

Gerald Kerns served his father as best man, and seating the guests were Al Frahm of Omaha, and Ralph Bonar.

The bride appeared in a gown of pale blue silk organza over taffeta. The bodice was designed with wide bishop sleeves and a high throat line contoured with a small collar. The full skirt was daytime length. The brief circular veil reflected the tone of her gown and was held to the head with a flat bow of blue organza. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Following a reception in the church parlors Mr. Kerns and his bride left for a honeymoon trip through the southern states. Upon their return they will reside at 3345 A St.

CLUBS

"One Night A Week A Family Night," has been the theme of the Lincoln COUNCIL OF PARENTS AND TEACHERS and Lincoln PTA units this year — an experiment toward better family unity planned by the council's juvenile protection committee.

One typical family unit has been chosen by each PTA unit to be honored on Wednesday evening at a "Family Night" program to be presented by the Lincoln Council and KUON-TV.

Four Lincoln families will present demonstrations of Family Night activities and films of other Lincoln families will be shown. The program, to be shown from 7:30 o'clock to 8 o'clock will be introduced by Dr. Donald Clifton of the University of Nebraska faculty, co-chairman of the PTA Council's juvenile protection committee.

Further information may be obtained by calling Ed Glass at the YMCA, or Edyth Holland at the YWCA.

The HAVELock YWCA is making plans for its annual open house program on Wednesday afternoon and evening at the center.

At the afternoon event from 2 o'clock to 4 o'clock, Miss Mary Boykin will sing, and a travel talk will be presented. During the evening hours, from 7:30 o'clock to 9:30 o'clock, the tap dance classes will perform and American Field Service students will speak.

The public is invited to attend. On Friday, the Matronettes will meet for an afternoon of bowling from 1 o'clock to 3 o'clock.

Registration is still open at the center for the following classes: children's crafts and dancing; bridge; and slym gym.

The members of the BUSY BEE Extension Club met for a 1 o'clock dessert luncheon Thursday at the home of Mrs. Arza Warboys. Mrs. James Bishop was introduced as a new member, and the lesson, "Home and Family Protection," was given by Mrs. John Tucker and Mrs. Albert Sandfort. Mrs. Orin Peterson was assisting hostess.

In place of the May meeting, the club will entertain at a family picnic. He fell through the floor.

BE IN STEP JOIN THE YOUTH PARADE

By Reba and Bonnie Churchill

1. Party ahoy! Whether you're saluting St. Patrick's Day, a birthday, or Spring, here are some party suggestions, illustrated by two of Hollywood's most popular teeners, recording star Frankie Avalon and Alana

Ladd, daughter of film star Alan Ladd. Whether hostess or guest, be organized! If presented with a corsage, don't waste time experimenting, but pin it on the left shoulder, stem down, or in hair, or on purse.

2. Clever party props keep the fun ball rolling. Giant balloons not only provide a festive background but include charade stunts. A garden hat is converted into a centerpiece with multi-color flowers, and, in salute to Frankie, miniature musical instruments.

3. If you know the Bop, Cha-cha-cha and Stroll, you'll be "in step" at most parties. Since these include dance breaks, don't leave your partner stranded while you show off some intricate footwork. Alana and Frankie, who appear in the Warner Bros. release, "Guns of the Timberland," concentrate on the beat of the music.

P.S. This is your column, so let us know the topics which interest you most. Subjects receiving majority of votes will be selected as forthcoming topics for "Youth Parade." Send postcards to "Youth Parade," The Lincoln Star, Lincoln, Nebraska.

2 ♠	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	6 ♠	Pass

This hand was played in the world championship match in 1951 between Italy and the United States. The Italians lost to the Americans that year — the only time in the four meetings between the two countries that they failed to defeat the United States.

The Italians have now taken the measure of the United States representatives for the past three years in succession.

America will have another chance to get back at the Italians when the twelve-day World Bridge Olympiad is staged in Turin starting on Saturday. This time the clash will not be head-on, as in previous years. Some 30 teams from countries all over the world will participate in the giant contest.

Although the Italians lost decisively in Naples in 1951, they had a lot of good hands to show for their efforts. In this one, for example, they gained a cool 1,470 points.

The bidding went as shown. Chiaradia's notrump overall, as he and Ricci played this bid, indicated a long suit, presumably in hearts or clubs.

Crawford and I then got to six diamonds, as indicated, but Ricci, having listened closely to the bidding, led the ace and another spade to defeat the vulnerable slam one trick. Six spades, as the cards were distributed, could have been made.

When the other Italian pair held the North-South cards, they also got to six diamonds. But they made the contract. The bidding was:

South	West	North	East
Siniscalco	Stayman	Forquet	Rappe
1 ♥	Pass	2 ♦	Pass
3 ♦	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	4 ♠	Pass
4 NT	Pass	6 ♦	Pass

The Italians then, as now, tended to bid their shorter hand, which accounts for Forquet's two diamond response.

The effect was stupendous. With East on lead, the slam could not be defeated. Forquet-Siniscalco scored 1,370 points for the Italians.

The firm conducts the polls because it found carbon copies of American products can't be exported all the time. Now, the firm engineers products to suit habits and preferences of the housewives in distant lands.

Reports from the overseas researchers show that with the possible exception of France, the opinion-takers get a royal reception almost everywhere. The poll-takers term Paris apartments their "toughest territory." A stranger cannot enter until he gets a "cest okay" from the concierges who guard the entrances.

But in contrast to the slightly chill shoulder in France, the opinion-takers find housewives—and the males—in other lands quite receptive.

In many countries, the housewives treat the visit as a cause for celebration and may even trot out the best china to serve coffee or tea. Sometimes, the pollster gets a full-course meal while relatives and neighbors are summoned to view the honored guest.

As a group, the interviewers reported—happily—that they run into fewer dogs abroad than they do in the United States. One poll-taker said he once was chased by a goose. Another received quite a let-down during an interview.

6 File In First District For NU Board Of Regents Post

(Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of articles by Star Staff members on the May 10 primary.)

By Betty Person

Three seats on the Nebraska Supreme Court bench, two posts as regents of the University of Nebraska, and two memberships on the State Board of Education are up for nomination in the May 10 primary.

The only contest for these non-partisan offices, however, is for the First District regent's post for which 6 persons have filed.

In each of the other offices, there are either single candidates, or just two persons have filed, so their nominations for the general election are assured.

Candidates for the University's First District regent post are:

Joseph B. Bovey, 54, of Lincoln, is now in the investment business. He served as warden of the Nebraska Penitentiary from April, 1955, to May, 1959, and was with the Federal Bureau of Prisons from 1932 to 1942.

Marine Veteran

He served with the Marine Corps from 1929 to 1932, and is a past commander of the State Marine Corps League. Bovey attended Doane College and Peru State Teachers College, specializing in government and political science.

Russell Lockwood, 37, of Lincoln, is an attorney with the Nebraska Petroleum Council. A graduate of the University of Nebraska, with BS and LLB degrees, he served in the U.S. Naval reserve from 1941 to 1945.

Lockwood is president of the congregation of the First United Presbyterian Church, a director of the Nebraska Chamber of Commerce, and member of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, Nebraska and Lincoln Bar Associations.

With NSEA

Paul H. Schuppach, 36, of Lincoln, is director of public information for the Nebraska State Education Association. He received two degrees from the University of Nebraska and a masters degree from Northwestern University.

He served 4 years with the U.S. Army, including the Korean War. A former faculty member of the University of Nebraska Speech Department, Schuppach also was a member of the Fine Arts Committee of the Arts and Science College. He is a member of the Governor's Committee on Safety.

Clarence E. Swanson, 61, of Lincoln, is the incumbent NU regent seeking re-election to a second 6-year term. He is president of the Hovland-Swanson Co. of Lincoln.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska, Swanson is a life member and former director of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, former member of the University Athletic Board and served on the Lincoln School Board. He is a former member of the board of trustees of First Presbyterian Church.

Former Legislator

Charles Vogt Jr., 60, of Liberty. A farmer, Vogt is a former member of the Nebraska Legislature. He served one term in the Legislature's House of Representatives, 1935 session, and one term in the Unicameral, 1949-51, from the First District.

A veteran of World War II, Vogt served with the Second Infantry Division in Europe. He is a graduate of the University of Nebraska.

Lloyd E. Watson, 49, of Humboldt. A vocational agriculture instructor, Watson graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1932 with a BS in agriculture. He has served on the Humboldt City Council.

Watson is president of the Nebraska Vocational Association; secretary of the Richardson County Fair; past president of the Nebraska Vocational Agriculture Association, Nebraska Fair Managers Association, and Richardson County Education Association. He is a member of the Humboldt Chamber of Commerce.

2 New Faces Certain

Two new faces are certain to appear when the 7-member Supreme Court meets next January since two of the present justices, E. B. Chappell from the first district, and Paul E. Boslaugh from the Fifth District, are retiring from the bench.

Candidates for the First District post are Doane F. Kiechil and District Judge Harry A. Spencer, both of Lincoln.

Judge Adolph E. Wenke of Stanton is seeking re-election to fourth 6-year term on the Supreme Court bench from the Third District. He is the only candidate for the post.

John A. Bottorf, Sutton attorney, and Leslie Boslaugh, Hastings attorney and son of retiring Judge Paul E. Boslaugh, are seeking the two nominations for the Fifth District Supreme Court post.

Incumbents In Race

Incumbents in the two State Board of Education posts up for election this year are seeking re-nomination, and only one has primary opposition.

Hamilton F. Mitten of Fremont, member from the Third District, is unopposed.

Dr. W. Ray Hill of Seward, member from the Fourth District, is opposed by Lloyd V. Wright of Reynolds.

Williams said he will be in North Platte Monday, and Grand Island Tuesday. Tuesday night he will make a television speech at Hastings.

Thursday the state senator will be at York, and Friday at his campaign headquarters in Omaha.

He will speak at Red Cloud Saturday.

Canal Collision Damage Minor

Port Said, Egypt (AP)—Divers inspected the two American ships that collided in the Suez Canal in a dust storm here. They said the U.S. Navy's oiler Potomac has a hole in the stern just above the water line while the tanker Green Valley is undamaged.

The Potomac, on its way from the Persian Gulf to Spain, is expected to continue its journey in 5 days.

Polio Clinics Moved To 3 Hospitals, NU

Polio clinics previously scheduled at 5 public schools will be conducted at Lincoln hospitals and the Student Health Center, University of Nebraska.

Originally set for Park, Elliott, Saratoga, Bethany and Holmes schools, the polio clinics will be held Monday and Tuesday from 6:30 to 9 p.m. at Bryan Memorial Hospital, Lincoln General Hospital and NU Student Health Center.

St. Elizabeth Hospital will be the site of a clinic Monday from 6:30 to 9 p.m.

The clinics are open to give first, second, 3rd or booster polio shots to adults and children.

Committees To Back Thorne As Candidate

The Thorne-for-Congress Committee announced a plan to form "town and country committees" in behalf of the candidacy of Hastings Mayor Hans "Jack" Thorne.

Thorne is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress in the First District.

Committees will be composed of farmers, ranchers and town and city residents, Thorne said.

State Oil Tempo 'Up'

... 15 New Notices

Sidney (UPI)—Five new wells are planned in Southwest Nebraska, the state's newest oil-drilling area, the Oil-Gas Commission said in its weekly report Monday.

Fifteen notices of intent to drill oil wells were filed during the week ending April 11, the commission said here.

A lone wildcat well is intended in Richardson County, in the extreme southeast corner of the state, by Carter Division, Humble Oil and Refining Co.

Of the Red Willow wells, 3 are to be located in the established Ackman field. Two are wildcat operations.

Two wildcat wells are planned in Sioux County, north of Scottsbluff.

Four of the notices were for Banner County and one each were for Cheyenne, Kimball and Morrill counties.

Nine of the 15 are wildcat operations.

U.S. Trails In Wheat Grading

... IMPERIAL FARMER SAYS

Lincoln Star Special.
Imperial — "Argentina and Canada are ahead of the United States in marketing and grading systems for exports, but we're making plans to catch up."

Or so says Herbert Hughes, Imperial farmer who recently returned from a trip to Argentina where he inspected various agricultural methods.

The vice-president of the Great Plains Wheat Market Development Association said that a network of overseas offices and traveling representatives are helping the U.S. overcome this handicap.

Scoular, Too

A fellow Nebraskan — Bob Scoular of the Omaha Grain Exchange — made the Argentina jaunt, too.

"We found that we need to do a better job of delivering to our customers a more uniform quality of wheat," Hughes reported, "We need also to do a better job of describing the milling quality of wheat in making sales contracts."

The Southwest Nebraskan continued: "We raise good wheat and there is an export market for every kind we raise. The secret is to get the right quality and the right kind to the right market."

The U.S., according to Hughes, has 4 main competitors for wheat export markets — Argentina, Canada, Australia and Russia.

To Follow?

He claimed now that teams have inspected marketing and grading systems in Argentina and Canada, other teams will soon go to Australia and Russia.

The study of how our rivals sell their grain is part of a long-range plan by the wheat industry to match their competition and sell more wheat overseas.

Columbus Methodist Services Combined

Columbus — Easter Sunday was especially important to members of the First Methodist parish here.

Consecration and Easter services were combined at their recently completed $150,000 church.

On hand for the special service was Bishop Ivan L. Holt of the Nebraska Annual Conference.

The new worship center is only the first half of plans to reach completion within the next 4 years.

According to a church spokesman, the 1,100-member parish plans to add an $100,000 educational unit.

The near 600 seat sanctuary, which also houses the fellowship hall, has kitchen facilities.

The spokesman said the new addition will include a library and office.

A special open house for the public is slated May 1.

Large Bequest For NU Medical Tech Students

Omaha — The University of Nebraska has received its largest bequest to date for medical technology students.

Dr. J. P. Tollman, dean of the College of Medicine, said Sunday the will of the late Miss Frieda Oltmanns of Omaha ha provided $55,000 for a loan fund for students in medical technology.

Miss Oltmanns was for many years a laboratory technologist for the Union Pacific Railroad in Omaha.

Dr. Tollman said loans made from the fund will be available to sophomore, junior and senior students.

BIG FEED LOT PLANNED

Minatare — A multi-million dollar cattle feed lot, which eventually will have a capacity to handle 50,000 head of cattle, will be built at the southwest edge of Minatare.

B. M. Stewart of Newcastle, Wyo., president of the System Investment Co., said construction would be started this week at the location of the old Great Western Sugar Co. factory.

Stewart said the firm had purchased Great Western holdings at Minatare, with the exception of 8 acres which will be used for a beet receiving station, and had signed a contract for construction of $250,000 feed mill.

HARDIN IS KEARNEY SPEAKER

Kearney—University of Nebraska Chancellor Clifford Hardin will give the commencement address at Kearney State Teachers College here May 27, school officials announced Sunday.

Dr. Donald M. Typer, president of Doane College at Crete, will give the baccalaureate sermon on the afternoon of May 22.

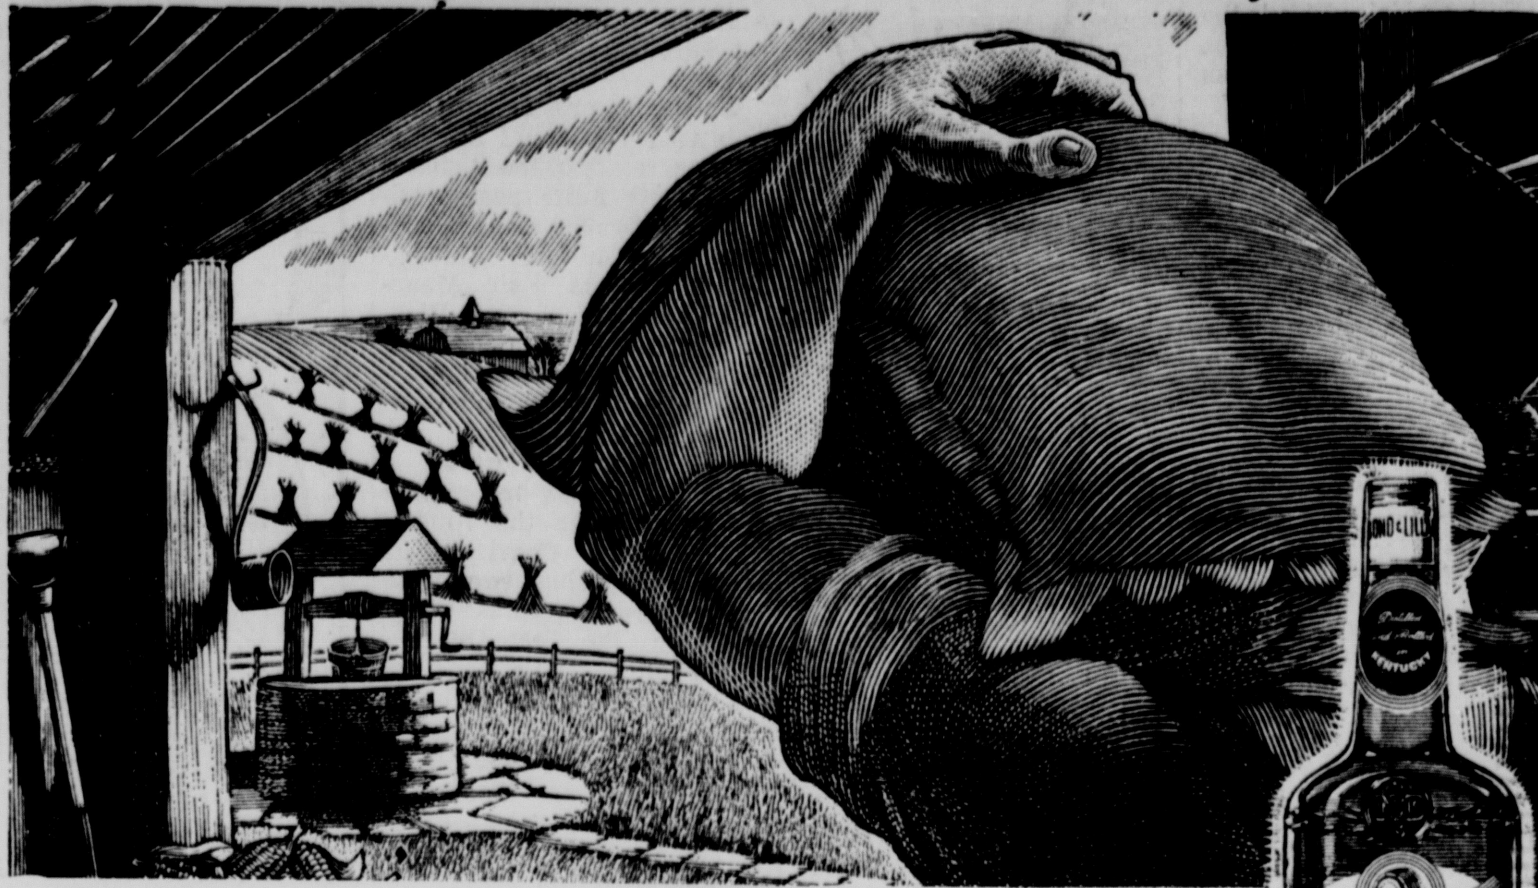

According to KSTC Registrar Joe Horner, 326 students will receive diplomas.

This class, according to Horner, will be the largest in the state teacher college's history.

What puts the swing of confidence in a man's step?

Satisfaction in his job... joy in his family... pride in his home... it's made of many things. And not the least of these is the knowledge that he has provided for those he loves today—and tomorrow. Life insurance can bring that kind of security. It alone guarantees its full protection from the very first. Often it represents a sum of money it would take years for a family to accumulate. This is protection with specific dimensions —the kind of protection that gives courage to plan ahead. It goes a long way toward removing some of the uncertainties of the future.

What are the unique benefits of Life Insurance?

- 1 At the stroke of a pen you can create an estate for your family which would take many, many years to acquire in any other way.
- 2 You can build an income which neither you nor your wife can outlive.
- 3 From your very first payment, you can make certain that specific needs, such as mortgage repayments and children's education, will be met.
- 4 You know in advance exactly how much money will be available at any given time, in case of an emergency.
- 5 Your insurance can be so arranged that you and your family are relieved of the burden and risks of money management.

Two Land Jobs On Chief Club

... WILLIAMSON, DUFFY IN

By Don Bryant
Sports Editor, The Star
Hollywood, Fla.—Manager Ira Hutchinson of the Lincoln Chiefs Sunday awarded jobs to two players at the Chicago White Sox training camp.

Following a game between the Lincoln "A's" managed by Hutch and the Lincoln "B's" managed by Bennie Huffman, Hutchinson issued tickets north to a veteran and a newcomer.

Hutch tabbed a pair of outfielders—Herman (Pug) Williamson, who had a fine year for Lincoln in 1959, and little Gene Duffy, the pint-sized centerfielder who captained the Notre Dame baseball and basket ball team during his college days.

Duffy, who will add a dash of color to Sherman Field, won a job with his performance Sunday.

Williamson's credentials carry over from last season and were validated by a fine spring training.

Gets Two Hits
Sunday the 5 1/2 ex-Irish star got two hits in 3 trips, drove in two runs and sparked afield as Hutch's team won 5-3.

A native of Davenport, Ia., Duffy is 23 years old. He's a lefthander all the way who broke in last season with Holdrege of the Nebraska State League.

From Holdrege he moved up to Duluth-Superior of the Class C Northern League, but he suffered an injury and saw action in only 45 games.

His record showed a .263 average, 15 RBIs, 8 doubles, 2 triples, 46 hits and 24 runs.

Williamson had a good year at Lincoln in 1959 and right now ranks as the top performer slated to Don Chief flannels.

At 3rd he committed 42 errors and had a miserable .791 fielding average, but in 31 games as an outfielder he turned in a .955 performance.

There was nothing wrong with Pug's stick work. He compiled a .292 average on 117 hits in 401 at bats, scored 56 runs, drove in 65 runs and whacked 22 doubles, 5 triples and 7 home runs.

Hutchinson plans to use him in right field and keep him handy for utility infield duty.

Grab 3-0 Lead
Hutch's club Sunday took a 3-0 lead in the 3rd on Duffy's single and a similar effort by second baseman Al Weis. The A's added two more in the fifth when Duffy, Weis and outfielder Paul

Slow-Poke AL Gets Started Today

By Associated Press
The American League sides up to the starting gate for a presidential opener today and a full schedule Tuesday while the National League rushes to the bank with the proceeds of a profitable early opening.

Thanks to bumper attendance in California, the National is crowding the half million mark in attendance after one week.

It got such a jump on the American that it already has had its first managerial change.

President Eisenhower, interrupting a golfing-work trip to Augusta, will do his best to get the American back in the groove by throwing out the first ball today at Washington.

Then it will be up to the talented Camilo Pascual (17-10) to carry on against Boston's Tom Sturdivant (2-8).

New Nats
Calvin Griffith, Washington owner, expects a turnout of 28,000 to greet such new faces as Earl Battey, Don Mincher and Billy Gardner.

The Senators have undergone an extensive turnover since last season, but still retain the home run crew of Harmon Killebrew, Jim Lemon and Bob Allison.

Sox Open Tuesday
The entire league will get going Tuesday with the Chicago White Sox opening the defense of their league championship at Comiskey Park. A crowd of 30,000 is expected to watch Early Wynn (22-10) try

Kansas City knuckleballer, to prove there is plenty of life at 40 in his right arm.

Bud Daley (16-13), the left-hander who graduated from the bullpen to a No. 1 pitcher at Kansas City last year, will oppose Wynn.

The White Sox, who lacked power last year and still won by 5 games, have added strength in Minnie Minoso, Gene Freese and Roy Sievers.

KC Unsettled
Kansas City's line-up is unsettled with Bob Elliott, the only new manager in the league, still experimenting at key positions.

Former Yankees who came to the A's in the Roger Maris deal all are prominent in his plans. They are Hank Bauer, Norm Siebern, Don Larsen and Marv Throneberry.

Cleveland, picked by many to be Chicago's main threat, expects 40,000 at Municipal Stadium for its opener with Detroit. Joe Gordon has picked Gary Bell (16-11) to oppose Detroit's Jim Bunning (17-13).

Vault Crew Warmed Up

By Al Beebe
Pole vaulters, perhaps the slowest-starting group of Nebraska prep field performers, made the biggest improvement during the week.

It was a week of much track and field activity, but little quality. Only one new leader took over in the field. Another gained a tie for the top.

New leader is Charles Hircok of Broken Bow. Already runner-up in the shot put, he last year, but has been struck at the 11-6 level this spring.

Fisher Now 3rd
Mike Fisher of Sidney, competing in his own school's invitational, climbed to 11-9 1/2 for 3rd place among vaulters.

Columbus' Joe Matejka added an inch to his previous best mark, going 11-9 in the Midland Relays.

An even 11 feet made the Top 10 last week.

The shot put provided another heady performer when a 3rd hefty hit the 53-foot circle. Lyle Sittler of Crete joins Kotre and Hircok in that group with a 53 3/4 mark in a triangular meet at York.

The Top 10 in each event:
Shot Put
53-11 1/2, Don Kotre, Omaha Benson; 53-9, Charles Hircok, Broken Bow; 53-8 1/2, Lyle Sittler, Crete; 53-4, Tom Sevener, Ord; 50-11 1/2, John Boyke, Lawrence.

Pittsburgh also won the opener 5-0 behind Bob Friend's 4-hit pitching.

The Redlegs were ahead 5-0 going into the Pirate half of the 9th inning, and Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson lifted pitcher Paul Sanchez and sent Bill Henry to the mound.

Tigers Pursue Greater Power

... LANE LIKES BENGAL ACE

Lakeland, Fla. (P)—Detroit's Tigers Sunday traded American League batting champion Harvey Kuenn to Cleveland for slugger Rocky Colavito.

It was a straight player deal with no cash involved.

The bombshell announcement was made by Vice President Rick Farrell of the Tigers in the press box at Henley Field during the Detroit-Kansas City exhibition.

The deal was made in a telephone conversation between President Bill DeWitt of the Tigers in St. Louis and Frank Lane, general manager of the Indians.

Kuenn and Colavito will switch uniforms when the Tigers and Indians open in Cleveland Tuesday.

Kuenn, 29, copped the American League batting crown with a .353 average last season.

Colavito, 26, smacked 42

round-trippers to tie Washington's Harman Killebrew for the home run title.

A deal involving Kuenn and Colavito had long been rumored.

DeWitt said addition of Colavito gives the Tigers a much-needed long-ball hitter to team with Al Kaline.

Colavito first came to the Indians in 1955 and has swatted 129 home runs in 5 full seasons.

Once Below .300
Kuenn has been with the Tigers since 1952 and owns a lifetime batting average of .314. Only once in his career has he failed to hit .300.

"I have a high regard for Harvey Kuenn's ability as a player," Tiger President DeWitt said from his home.

"But we felt we needed more power at the plate, and we're hopeful this move will enable us to score more runs," he added.

Kuenn stepped off the University of Wisconsin campus and played only 63 games in the minor leagues before establishing himself as one of the foremost Tigers.

All-Star 5 Times
He spent 5 seasons as a shortstop and was named to the American League's all-star team 5 times.

It was his hitting rather than his fielding that earned him All-Star recognition, and the Detroit club switched him to centerfield at the start of the '58 season.

Davenport's Base Rap Wins For Giants In 14

San Francisco (P)—Jim Davenport's 14th-inning single scored relief pitcher Billy Loes from second and awarded San Francisco's Giants a 4-3 victory over the stubborn Chicago Cubs Sunday.

Loes, brought to the Giants in a swap with Baltimore, hurled hitless ball for the last 3 innings and led off the 14th with a single to right off rookie Ben Johnson.

A crowd of 33,337, 3rd through over 30,000 in the Giant's first 5 home games, watched the 4 hour and two-minute affair in which 34 players were used.

The Giants' big blow was Orlando Cepeda's two-run 6th-inning homer over the right field fence.

—89 OF 91-PLAYER HUSKER SQUAD WILL OPEN SPRING DRILLS TODAY—

Grid Hibernation Ending

By Bob McCoy
The longer-than-usual winter hibernation ends today for 89 University of Nebraska 1960 football candidates.

Coach Bill Jennings blows the whistle this afternoon on the first of 20 spring practice sessions.

Jennings and his staff have listed 91 players on the 1960 roster, but lettermen Don Purcell and Al Wellman will pass up spring play.

Purcell is pitching for the Husker baseball team, while Wellman throws the shot for the NU track squad.

Two positions, both in the backfield, loom as the problem spots Jennings hopes to clear up in the spring session.

These are (1) quarter-back, where Harry Tolly is departing, and (2) left half-back, where there is likely to be no returning lettermen.

Reason for the left half vacancy is that 2-year vet Pat Fischer is being groomed for No. 1 quarterback duties.

Philadelphia (AP)—Power-hitting Ed Mathews belted a two-run homer, a triple and a double Sunday and Bob Buhl chucked a 6-hitter awarding Milwaukee an 8-4 victory over Philadelphia's Phillies.

Harry Anderson hit a pair of solo home runs for the losers.

Four Huge Cinderfests This Week

Probably the heaviest schedule of the year, sparked by 4 of the year's biggest meets, is on tap for track and field fans in Nebraska this week.

Leading off the quartet of big meets is the huge Central Nebraska Invitational affair at Hastings on Thursday. Lincoln High is among the entries.

Friday is the equally outstanding Doane Invitational at Crete. Lincoln Northeast and Southeast will go in this meet.

The Saturday fare is split between the Norfolk Invitational and the Western Nebraska at Scottsbluff.

In between are a host of duals and conference meets. The schedule includes:

Monday—M-B-N at Columbus; Lexington at Gothenburg; Sandhills at Alliance; Nebraska Valley at Lincoln; Holt County at O'Neill; Northern 8 at Randolph; Southeast Border at Auburn; Southern Frontier at McCook; Scottsbluff, Ogallala at Gering; East-Central Nebraska at Kearney; Lincoln Southeast-Westside at Omaha Benson.

Tuesday—Central Loop at Ord; Nemaha Valley at Table Rock; Sidney at Alliance; Nebraska Valley at Lincoln; Holt County at O'Neill; Northern 8 at Randolph; Southeast Border at Auburn; Southern Frontier at McCook; Scottsbluff, Ogallala at Gering; East-Central Nebraska at Kearney; Lincoln Southeast-Westside at Omaha Benson.

Wednesday—Trans-Platte at David City; Husker 8 at Fremont; Lewis & Clark at Hastings; Alsworth Invitational; Mid 7 at Columbus; Dodgeville Valley at Harrisburg; Ashland at Schuyler; Lincoln County at Sutherland; Cross Roads at Seward Concordia.

Thursday—Central Nebraska at Hastings; Loop Valley at Burwell; Hooper at David City.

Friday—Doane Invitational.

Saturday—Western Nebraska at Scottsbluff; Norfolk Invitational; Cozad, Ogallala, Holdrege at Gothenburg.

Snead Totals 270 For 7th Greensboro Prize

Greensboro, N.C. (AP)—Sam Snead birdied the last two holes Sunday to win the Greater Greensboro Open golf tournament for the 7th time with a closing 69 for a 270 total.

He was 14 under par and two shots ahead of runnerup Dow Finsterwald who shot a final 68.

The victory was the 105th major PGA circuit triumph for the 47-year-old Snead in his 28 years as a professional and earned him $2,800.

The White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., pro won the first Greensboro tournament in 1938.

Sponsors of the tournament voted to up the purse money from the scheduled $17,500 to $20,000.

This was evidence of their appreciation to those players who came here "and to encourage those unable to compete this year to attend in the future."

They also announced next year's tournament would carry a $20,000 purse.

CARDINALS TAKE 5TH REVERSAL

Los Angeles (AP)—Los Angeles' Dodgers employed a mixture of home runs and St. Louis blunders while dispatching the Cardinals to their 5th straight defeat by 7-5 Sunday.

A crowd of 36,190 watched Gil Hodges drive in two of the Dodger runs with a homer. Duke Snider and Wally Moon connected for round-trippers with the bases empty.

The Dodgers scored one run on a wild pitch and two more on an error by Alex Grammas.

Grammas later smashed a two-run homer, and Stan Musial hit his first of the season with the bases empty.

After two series the Cardinals are still looking for their first victory.

World Series hero Larry Sherry, bidding for a regular starting job, gave up 9 hits and all 5 St. Louis runs in the 6th inning he worked.

Ernie Broglio, who went 3½ innings for the Cards, took the loss.

Sox Blank New York In Finale

New York (AP)—Boston's Red Sox completed a two-game sweep of their exhibition series with New York at Yankee Stadium Sunday with a 2-0 victory on the 4-hit hurling of 3 pitchers.

The Yankees' defeat concluded their worst spring training in 40 years. It left them with a record of 11 victories and 21 setbacks against major league opposition.

The Sox finished with 17-14 and swept all 3 games they played against New York, including one in Florida. The Yanks made only two runs and 10 hits in 27 innings against Boston pitching.

Left-hander Ted Bowsfield and right-handers Frank Sullivan and Jerry Casale shared the shutout with 3 innings apiece. The blanking was the 5th of the spring for New York.

Right-hander John Gabler worked the first 4 innings for the Yanks and gave up 3 of the 5 Sox hits and both runs. The Hose scored on two walks and a single by Ted Williams in the first inning.

The Sox got their other run in the 4th when Don Buddin walked, moved up on a ground out and came home when left fielder Roger Maris lost pinch hitter Ron Jackson's fly. The looper fell safely for a two-base hit.

Newly-Crowned Flyweight King May Defend In L.A.

Bangkok, Thailand (AP)—Thailand's Pone Kingpetch, the newly crowned flyweight boxing champion of the world, may make his first title defense in Los Angeles in about 3 months.

The fisherman's son dethroned tiny Pascual Perez of Argentina by split decision in 15 rounds in a whopping fistic upset.

Perez, 34-year-old veteran, has the right to a return bout within 90 days. His manager, Lazaro Koci, said Perez wants the rematch as soon as possible.

"I'll win the next time," said Perez.

Koci said he had received offers from Japan and Brazil but said he wanted to talk first to George Parnassus, Los Angeles matchmaker, about holding the fight in the California city.

Maybe In L.A.

Parnassus is expected to arrive in Bangkok next month to discuss terms with the Thailander.

Perez blamed the sweltering, tropical heat for his defeat. The fight originally was scheduled for April 2 but the 4 foot, 10½ Argentine had the fight postponed two weeks so he could get accustomed to the climate.

Pone's victory, making him Thailand's first world champion, was witnessed by King Phumipol Aduldej and Queen Sirikit. After the bout, the king summoned Pone to his box to congratulate him.

"I'm not sure what made me happier—my victory or his majesty's pat on the back," the shy fighter said.

The defeat was only the second of Perez' career and ended a reign of 5 years, 5 months as ruler of the 112-pound division.

Malloy-Patty Advance

Monte Carlo (AP)—Gardnar Mulloy and Budge Patty advanced to the finals of the men's doubles in the Monte Carlo tennis tournament.

Mulloy, of Miami, and Patty, of Los Angeles, defeated Torben and Jorgen Ulrich of Denmark, 4-6, 6-4, 6-1, 6-0.

In the final they will meet Alberto Arilla and Andres Gimeno of Spain. The Spaniards won from Wilhelm Bungert and Dieter Eklebe of Germany, 7-5, 6-4, 6-2.

LINCOLN PREP TRACK SQUADS ENTERING FAST COMPETITION

By Larry Novicki
Lincoln track teams step into fast competition this week in two of the state's largest meets.

Southeast, Northeast, University High and Pius are entered in the Doane Invitational Friday at Crete.

Southeast and Northeast finished 5th and 10th respectively at the huge Columbus Invitational two weeks ago.

The Doane meet will be the first major competition for both Pius X and Uni High.

Lincoln High should be a strong contender at the Central Nebraska Meet Thursday in Hastings. The met is loaded with entries from the Big 10 Conference.

Lincoln thumped Grand Island 72 1-3-50 2-3 in a dual last week.

Northeast opens the week's cinder competition this afternoon with a dual meet at Beatrice. Bob Hohn and company of Beatrice own a decisive victory over Southeast.

Southeast travels to Omaha Benson Tuesday for a triangular with the Bunnies and Omaha Westside.

Receiving top billing on the baseball schedule is the Lincoln High-Northeast clash Wednesday.

The Rockets were impressive on defense in their 1-0 win over Omaha Cathedral last week. Wednesday is the opener for Lincoln High.

Pius X begins its first year of baseball Thursday by traveling to tough Omaha Holy Name.

Thursday Southeast entertains Omaha Westside and Lincoln High hosts Creighton Prep.

Northeast and Southeast are the only tennis teams in action this week. The two vie at Northeast Wednesday.

Southeast goes to Boys Town Friday, and Northeast to Fairbury Saturday.

Foyt Auto First In Eastern Bow

Reading, Pa. (AP)—A. J. Foyt of Houston, Tex. sent his Offenhauser roaring around the Reading fairgrounds oval to victory in the 15-mile sweepstakes feature race Sunday.

Foyt took the lead on the first lap and was never passed by 15 others in the race.

It marked the opening of the 1960 United States Auto Club's eastern sprint car racing season.

Havanan Wins Decision

Havana (AP)—Florentino Fernandez, 147½ of Havana, defeated Gerald Grat, 146½, in a 10-rounder.

Bird Youth On Options To Marlins

Baltimore (AP)—Baltimore's Orioles Sunday optioned outfielder Dave Nicholson, their $115,000 bonus rookie, to Miami's Marlins on a 24-hour recall basis.

Lee MacPhail, Baltimore general manager, announced assignment of the 20-year-old St. Louis native to the Orioles ally in the International league.

Manager Paul Richards indicated Nicholson's length of stay with the Marlins will depend upon his ability to hit Triple-A pitching.

If he appears ready to make the step up from last season's class C level, he'll probably remain with Miami.

Otherwise he'll be recalled and carried on Baltimore's 1960 American League roster, saving his 3rd and final option for next year.

The first 29 days of the International League season will tell the story. Thirty days with a minor league constitutes an option under baseball rules.

Olympic Hopefuls Provide Top Fare

... TIDWELL SENSATIONAL

Abilene, Tex. (AP)—Abilene track bugs figure they saw more than their share of Olympic prospects in the 5-way meet involving Kansas, Abilene Christian, Houston, New Mexico, and North Texas State here.

The most sensational was Charlie Tidwell, the Kansas flash who bettered the world's record in the 220 around a curve with a time of 20.2, and then whipped up 100 yards in 9.4.

Tidwell was four-tenths of a second faster than the world's 220 record held by Ray Norton of San Jose State but it won't be submitted because only two timers got the runners. The other failed to catch the start of the race.

Coach Bill Easton of Kansas wasn't greatly disturbed although he did say "it's too bad it happened."

But Tidwell's ability in the sprints indicates there'll be some real doings when the boys get together in the Olympic trials. Tidwell, incidentally, isn't even running the hurdles where he was National AAU champion last year.

Bill Woodhouse, the chunky little former Abilene Christian College ace who shares the 100-yard dash world's record at 9.3, showed he was finally on the way back up. He had been taking beatings every week in the 100 meters or 200 meters but he won the 100 meters in a fine time of 10.2.

Bobby Morrow, the Olympic sprint champion, sat out the meet because of a sore leg. But Morrow already has shown he's ready to fight for a return to the Olympics.

Eddie Southern, the former Texas star who was second in the 400-meter hurdles in the 1956 Olympics, is considered probably the premier quarter-miler and still is one of the top hurdlers in the nation. Southern ran in a special 300-yard race here and his time of 29.8 tied the American record.

Ollan Cassel of Houston and Earl Young of Abilene Christian both are top quarter-mile prospects. Cassel and Young each was given a time of 46.2. They were that close at the finish, with Cassel the winner. And Young did 46.2 on his lap of the mile relay which Abilene Christian posted a time of 3:09.5, only eight-tenths of a second over the national collegiate record.

Dick Howard of New Mexico and Calvin Cooley of Abilene Christian are leading prospects in the hurdles. Cooley did the 220-yard lows in 22.2 with Howard running neck-and-neck with him until he hit the last hurdle and was slowed down. Howard is the National AAU 400-meter hurdles champion and will try for that in the Olympics.

Bill Alley, the Kansas javelin thrower, is another top contender although he got only 241 feet 8½ inches here. He has tossed the spear over 270 feet.

Kansas, the defending NCAA team champion, doesn't appear as strong as last season but still has excellent potentials for a repeat.

BEATTY AT 4:06.1

Santa Barbara, Calif. (AP)—Jim Beatty survived a traffic jam and went on to win a 4:06.1 mile in the 22nd annual Easter Relays.

The ex-collegian, competing for the Santa Clara Valley Youth Club, nipped teammate Laszlo Tabori by a foot. Tabori had the same clocking.

2 Eagles, 4 Sub-Par Rounds Golf Features

Two eagles and a quartet of sub-par rounds featured Capital City golf action over the weekend.

Saturday and Sunday's splashes of rain and high winds kept most scores and turnouts down.

All clubs predict banner play this week. The season's first pro-am, slated at Hillcrest this afternoon, heads the schedule.

With the courses:

Lincoln Country Club
Harold Hinds' 75-yard hole shot for an eagle 2 on No. 2 and Steve Miller's eagle 3 on the 510-yard 13th took the spotlight on LCC.

Bud Williamson Jr. fired a 4-under par 68 and Bill Mowbray shot a 1-under 71. Other top scores included C. E. Swanson's 73 and a 75 by Dale Ganz.

LCC's first iron derby stag, slated Wednesday, kicks off the season's heavy activity.

Hillcrest
Hillcrest pro Bonnie Richards expects 80 golfers for today's pro-am starting at noon.

The event shares top billing with HCC's ladies day opener Thursday.

Pioneers
Joe Stefkovich's 68 and a 70 by Erv Peterson provided the first rounds below par 72 at Pioneers. Vern Peterson shot a 75.

The Pioneers Ladies Golf Assn. inaugural Thursday heads this week's slate.

Park Valley
Jere Carey's 32 for 9 holes, a 34 by Gordon Jacobsen and 35s by Jack Mueller and Harold Novickoff headed Park Valley scores.

Russ Otto and Steve Brehm hit 37s as golfers returned to the course with Sunday afternoon's sun.

Thunder Ridge
Paul Haith hit a 36 and Scott Mowbray turned in consistent rounds of 37-38 at Thunder Ridge.

—TO OBTAIN PLAYERS FOR CONTINENTAL— Rickey Says He'll Do 'Anything Legal'

New York (AP)—Branch Rickey, president of the playerless Continental League, warned the established major leagues that his league would "do anything that is legal" to sign up players if "forced to."

Rickey was interviewed by two state senators from New York City, Mac Neil Mitchell, Manhattan Republican, and Thomas Mackell, Queens Democrat, for a TV program.

Rickey gave a "categorical 'yes'" answer when asked if the league would operate outside "the canopy of organized baseball," if it had to.

He declined to use "declaration of war" or "fight" in statements concerning organized baseball but made it clear he did not like the way things were going.

While saying "there are people in organized baseball opposed to us," Rickey said "I doubt if there has been a concerted action on the part of anyone in organized baseball to oppose the organization of the league."

"It is the continuous accumulation of blocks and stoppages that in the whole picture indicate opposition to us. Whether intended or not, it has been very effective in delays."

Rickey concluded his appearance with a capsule analysis of Leo Durocher, the fiery ex-manager, who is rumored as being sought to manage the New York entry in the new league.

"I'd like to have him,"

Rickey said. "He has the greatest facility in the world for making a bad situation immediately worse."

"That is true, and yet, boy, if he is privy to your purposes and what you want to do, there is no greater manager of the men on the field."

Animal World Also Experiencing Its Ups, Downs

By Associated Press

Just like people, the animals and the birds and bees are having their good times and bad these days.

Consider the plight of Terrible Tim, the Kansas City gorilla who turned out to be Timorous Tim on his wedding night.

Dr. Deets Pickett, a veterinarian, had captured Tim and two females, Jeannie and Katie, in Africa last June. The girls were sent to the Kansas City zoo but Tim was only a 5-pound baby and the Picketts took him home with them.

By the time he was 13 months old he weighed more than 17 pounds, so the Picketts decided it was time he got himself a mate.

Tim was taken to the zoo and put in a cage with Jeannie and Katie.

Katie greeted Tim with a hefty wallop. It wasn't long until an attendant was calling zoo director William T. A. Cully and pleading for help. Tim, he said, was crying and having all kinds of temper tantrums.

There was nothing left to do but take him home, still yelping, to "Mama" Pickett. Now he's happy again.

For a time Cinderella, a 3-year-old persian cat owned by T. W. Farthing of Brant, N.Y., brooded over the loss of her litter of kittens.

She's happy again, now, though. She's playing mother to a brood of baby chicks for consolation. Picks them up and carries them around with her mouth just like they were kittens, too.

And Gigi, an 11-month-old chihuahua at the home of Renee Raymonds in Kankakee, Ill., used to cry every night at bedtime — until she was given a baby's pacifier.

New York's stray cats soon will have a fine new home provided by the Greenwich Village Humane League.

It's a 3-story building, purchased at a cost of many thousands of dollars, to replace a present single room. The cats, many abandoned by people who move, are collected from the streets.

At Jacksonville, Fla., it was a city feller who showed the country boys a thing or two. A swarm of bees settled on a rural mail box and wouldn't get off.

County officers finally called Police Sgt. W. F. Robertson of Jacksonville. He hustled right out and soon had the bees in a hive he keeps for emergencies. Seems the sergeant has been keeping bees as a hobby for 15 years.

In the bird news is the sad story of the big male partridge and the plate glass window.

Mrs. Walter Spencer of Greenwich, R.I., heard a terrific jumble of crashes in the living room. She rushed there to find a shattered double plate glass window, two lamps knocked over, and the

Lawmakers Eye Push Toward Adjournment

Washington (AP) — Congress returns from its briefest Easter recess in years this week to start the home-stretch drive for final adjournment.

Most of the action is scheduled for the House, where leaders have served notice that legislative dilly-dallying must end if Congress is to adjourn before the big political conventions start on July 11.

Actually there was no Easter vacation. Instead of the customary 10-day layoff, Congress took a breather from last Thursday until Monday — the normal weekend respite.

Diamond Day

There was to be little if any activity in either branch Monday, however, for the Washington Senators and Boston Red Sox were opening American League baseball season here and most lawmakers held tickets.

On Tuesday the House will consider more than 50 minor bills before taking up a bill appropriating $8,146,000 for a score or more of federal agencies. The money bill includes numerous controversial allotments and probably won't be disposed of until Wednesday.

It will be followed by a multibillion dollar foreign aid authorization bill which could keep the House busy the rest of the week. The aid measure is certain to be the target of many members who insist it's time to cut down on foreign financial assistance.

Rights Action

The House will lay the aid measure aside briefly on Thursday to take final action on a civil rights bill passed originally by the House and amended by the Senate.

House leaders expect little difficulty winning approval of the relatively minor Senate amendments. That would send the bill to President Eisenhower.

The Senate's floor docket for the week is comparatively light, the only major bill in the offing being the annual Treasury-Post Office appropriation.

Priest's Jest Delays Plane

Boise, Idaho (AP) — A United Air Lines flight from Seattle to New York City was delayed here for an hour Sunday after one of the passengers allegedly remarked that there might be a bomb on the plane.

R. E. Gustavel, district sales manager of the airline, said the passenger was identified by FBI agents as the Rev. Lawrence Banfield, a Roman Catholic priest, who had boarded the plane at Portland.

Gustavel said Father Banfield explained that he made the comment "in jest" as the plane was preparing to take off for Salt Lake City.

The pilot immediately brought the DC6 and its 32 passengers back to the airport terminal where airline ground service crews made an intensive search. No bomb was found.

Father Banfield remained in Boise voluntarily while FBI agents made "a routine security check." Gustavel said. The airline refunded the priest's ticket and he was reported to have left for Portland.

"Now, Tweedy, when I hunk you're going to find out what a load of fun your blind date is going to be."

DID YOU KNOW THIS? IT'S A FACT:

Accidents caused 91,000 deaths in the U.S. in 1958. Motor vehicle deaths took the greatest toll — 37,000.

Europe has more sheep than any other continent, about one-fourth of the world total.

Major Erich Hartman of Germany is said to have shot down 352 Allied craft in World War II. Baron von Richtofen's claim for World War I was only 80.

A "dame's rocket" is a plant grown in southern Europe which makes a good salad.

Roses are easy to grow. There are popular varieties thriving in every state of the Union, including Alaska.

WISHING WELL

By William J. Miller

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers to the right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
